Barcelona,Spain · info@hectorhardy.com · hectorhardy.com · github.com/hardyjr-hector

ABOUT

Self-taught frontend developer transitioning into the tech industry, with an engineering background and hands-on experience building real-world projects from scratch. Analytical and autonomous profile with a specific interest in the intersection of technology, data and sport. Looking for a first role in web development, sports data or digital product where I can keep growing.

FEATURED PROJECT

hectorhardy.com · hectorhardy.com · HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript

Frontend Web Development · 2025 – Present

• Single-page application with section-based navigation, CSS animations and a full ES/EN i18n translation system — no frameworks. • Integration with external REST APIs for live data: league tables, top scorers and assists across La Liga, Premier League, Serie A, Bundesliga, Ligue 1 and the Champions League.

• Dynamic .ICS file generation compatible with Apple Calendar and Google Calendar — full 2026 World Cup fixture (104 matches) with filters by team, stage and day.

• Slide-in article panel for national team analysis with progressive HTML content loading and no page reload.

• Google AdSense integration with a custom GDPR-compliant cookie consent system built from scratch.

• Affiliate link system (Futbol Emotion) and Ko-fi button for project monetisation.

• Jersey collection of 57+ items with real-time search filters and infinite horizontal scroll.
